Roberto Bifulco

Roberto leads the Intelligent Software Systems group at NEC Laboratories Europe, where he works on next-generation AI systems that integrate machine learning, computational science, and advanced computing platforms. His research currently focuses on enabling controllability for generative AI agents with general problem-solving abilities, especially in the context of Cybersecurity applications. Together with his group, he also covers broad areas related to AI-accelerated methods for physics and chemistry, and compiler- and architecture-driven optimizations for AI workloads.
